Corporate training

Translation or interpreting?

EU languages, non-EU languages, Middle-Eastern and Asian languages.

Translation

- Certified (sworn) translations
- Legalised translations and apostilles
- Translations of video recording
- Transcriptions of video recording
- Desktop publishing services (DTP) for texts translated into one or more languages at the same time
- Translation and creation or management of glossaries of personalised terminology

Interpreting

The best solution for your needs

Liaison interpreting for tours and visits, work breakfasts and technical training. For small meetings.

Whispering or chuchotage for one or two people.

The interpreter works next to the client and 'whispers' the translation to them.

Consecutive interpreting for short meetings with few participants.

The speaker pauses every 5-10 minutes to allow the interpreter to summarise, in the target language, what has been said.

One or two interpreters for each language pair.

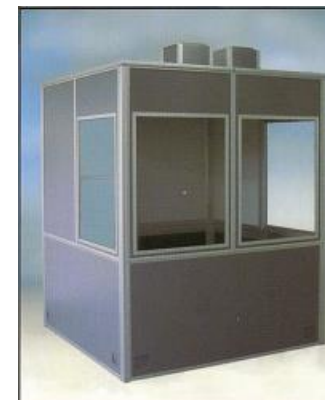

Simultaneous Interpreting

For congresses, international meetings and conferences. The interpreter listens to the speaker and translates at the same time to participants, who listen through headphones. Two interpreters for each language pair.

We supply all the technical equipment for simultaneous interpreting.

Services for fairs

Every kind of translation and interpreting service necessary for the preparation of your trade fair and for manning your stands with competent staff.
